Professional Disclosure Statement

Qualifications:

I received my undergraduate degree in Psychology in 1972, my Masters in 1982 and Doctorate in 1988 in Child Development and Family Studies from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. I believe in the ability of each person to achieve health, wellness and wholeness. My therapy and coaching are based upon the philosophy that all of us have within us everything we need to be whole and successful. I graduated Magna Cum Laude from UNCG and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in undergraduate school and Omicron Nu honorary academic society in graduate school. I was licensed as a Marriage & Family Therapist in 1986 License # 426, and was licensed as a Professional Counselor in 1995 license # 2236. I have over 30 years of counseling experience.

Background:

I have had extensive professional training. I have worked in community mental health, university and private practice settings. I have worked with clients with virtually every psychiatric diagnosis. I have seen clients ranging in age from 4 to 86 and include individual, couple and family counseling in my practice to deal with the stresses of modern life. My goal is to provide individualized solutions for each and every one of my clients. I emphasize personal growth and empowerment and respect each person's spiritual journey as unique and sacred. I also respect those that have no spiritual beliefs. I utilize the most progressive and productive therapeutic techniques available, to maximize growth and accelerate healing in a safe and supportive environment. I help people deal with all of life's normal developmental concerns like work and work related issues, intimate relationships, having children, parenting issues and growing older.

I also help people deal with complex issues arising from child sexual, emotional and physical abuse and the consequences of that abuse, as people move throughout life. I work with partners of narcissistic individuals and help them develop strategies to enable them to protect and heal themselves and their children if children are involved. I have over 30 years of experience and training in treating depression, adult ADHD, DID (Dissociative Identity Disorder), PTSD (post-traumatic stress disorder), and other anxiety based disorders. I have also worked with addictive disorders and issues of sexuality.

I use EMDR (Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing), and energy psychology, including TAT (Thought Field Therapy), Reiki, guided imagery and Ericksonian hypnotherapy to facilitate rapid recovery from trauma and to enhance performance. I assist executives, athletes, and other creative and artistic individuals to overcome blockages that impede their ability to perform at their maximum capacity using mindfulness, self-awareness, stress reduction, and healthy living practices. I also utilize CBT (Cognitive Behavior Therapy) and structural and strategic family therapy in my practice.

My theoretical orientation is eclectic in that I have integrated a number of theoretical frameworks into my method of counseling. I embrace a systemic approach to therapy in that I see that we are all embedded in a web of systems, internal and external that influence us and shape our behavior. I believe that we are a product of biology and our environment and in their interaction. I see problems in the context of society, family and internal to the individual. I embrace a cognitive behavioral and behavior modification approach where appropriate and often see problems in the context of a psychodynamic framework.
